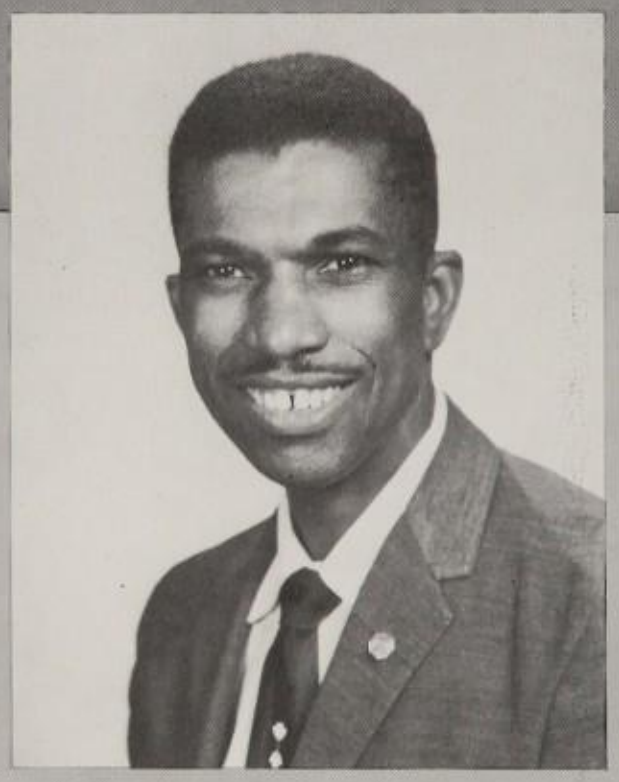
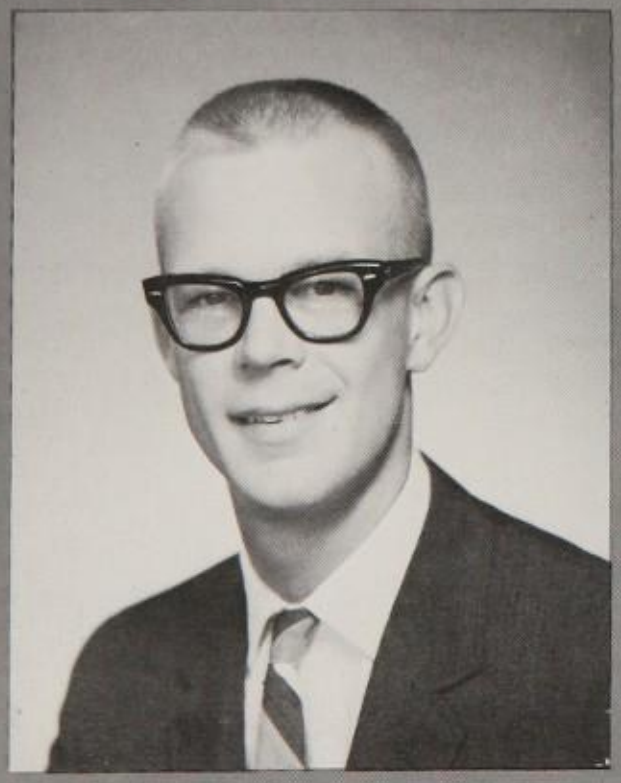
PRINCIPAL, ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS

Administration Emphasizes Scholastics, Community Bonds

MR. RICHARD E. WAGNER
Principal



MR. SILAS E. CRAFT
Assistant Principal



MR. H. ROBERT VEIT
Assistant Principal

MRS. LENORE PAINE LAVERY
Assistant Principal

TACKLING one of his most rewarding responsibilities, Mr. Wagner confers with a student desiring a schedule change, offering advice on the best course to take.

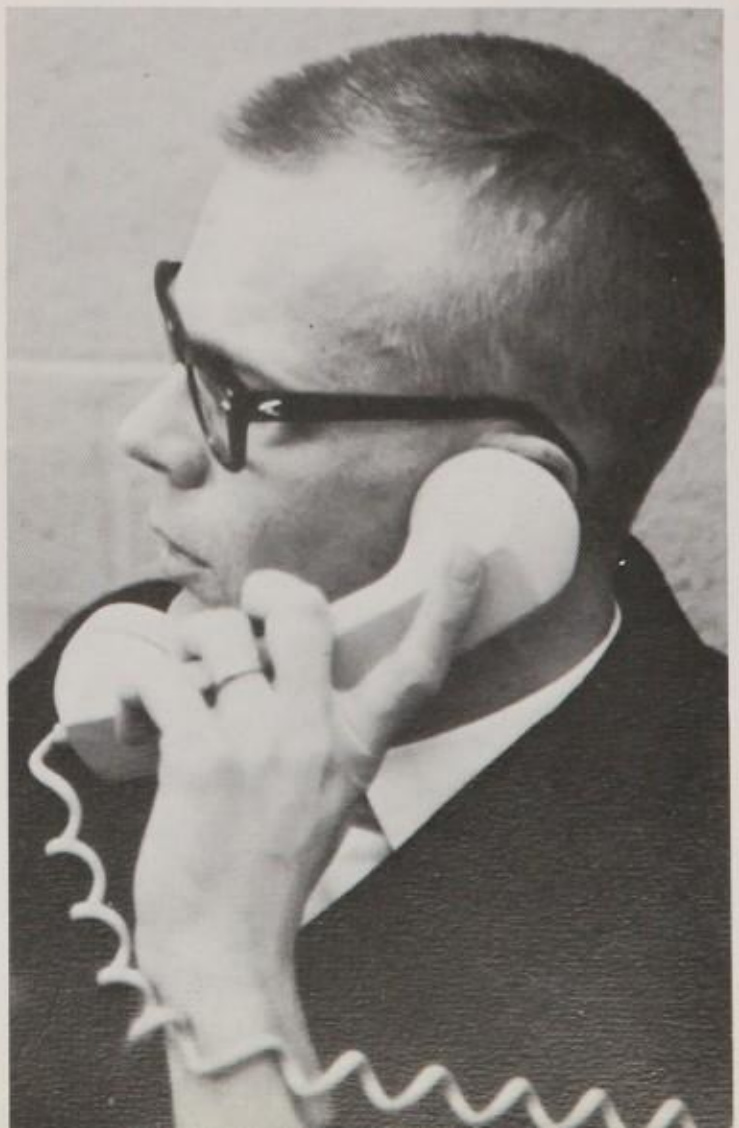
Under the leadership of Mr. Richard E. Wagner, the administration strengthened Blair's academic program, and maintained a close relationship with the community.

During the summer Mr. Wagner and Mrs. Lenore Paine Lavery, Assistant Principal, arranged the master schedule, and, along with Assistant Principals H. Robert Veit and Silas E. Craft, worked throughout the year toward the success of the program. In addition to observing classes, Mr. Wagner met with teachers about course content, and held conferences with students and parents. Mrs. Lavery improved the quality of instruction by working closely with the faculty, and by providing instructional materials. In this his first year at Blair, Mr. Veit supervised maintenance of buildings and grounds, kept a calendar of school activities, and handled disciplinary problems. With emphasis on the success of the individual Blairite, Mr. Craft supervised attendance record keeping and coordinated all counseling and health services.

The principal and assistant principals worked closely with community officials and organizations. Mr. Wagner discussed school business with county supervisors, while Mrs. Lavery arranged for special personnel to help teachers plan their courses. Serving on the PTA executive committee, Mr. Veit coordinated the group's programs with school affairs. Mr. Craft followed the progress of former students, frequently forwarding references in their behalf to colleges, prospective employers, and the armed services.

Through the dedication of its administration, Blair continued to raise its scholastic standards, strengthened its community bonds, and as a result stands better prepared to meet the expanding needs of its society.

KEEPING BLAIR PHYSICALLY SOUND, Mr. Veit requests maintenance service from the Board of Education.



MR. CRAFT AND MRS. LAVERY discuss the federal government's Economic Opportunity Act, through which Blair will be able to hire needy students to work in the school.

Blair's hard-working counselors prepared a schedule for every member of the student body, which numbered close to three thousand. Concerned with the future of Blair students, the Counseling Department provided assistance for all who needed help in selecting colleges. For this purpose, the staff maintained a library of college catalogues, offered advice concerning college board examinations, and arranged meetings for interested students with representatives from various colleges and universities. The vocational counselors offered advice and information to students about job opportunities in their chosen fields.

OFFICE STAFF, NURSE

Staff Keeps Blair Running

Perhaps the headline on this page should read "Blair Keeps Staff Running," for indeed the duties of the Office Staff and Nurse kept them on the go. Serving as secretaries to the Administration and Counseling Department, the Office Staff prepared endless reports and bulletins, compiled the complicated daily and monthly attendance reports, maintained permanent student records, and took orders and inventories for office and classroom supplies. In a public relations capacity, the Staff received visitors, and supervised the switchboard.

With warm smile and gracious mien, Mrs. Breakiron, the nurse, greeted those students who came to her for treatment when they became ill or were injured while at school. Her office staff, available during the day, also counseled Blairites on health problems and habits.

The English Department, constantly striving to strengthen its program, excelled in several areas this year. It was honored by being one of the few across the nation to be selected by the National Council of Teachers of English and the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for a study to determine methods of improving English teaching techniques. In addition, a new resource room became available as a place where English teachers could study, read, or do research. The room contained not only such work materials as files of pertinent professional magazines, copies of Blair textbooks, and theme models for the structural composition program, but also a typewriter, a duplicating machine, and other aids helpful to teaching for the exclusive use by the English teachers.

Facilities Aid Research

The Montgomery Blair Library, always considering student interests, provided Blairites with a wide selection of research materials, books, and magazines. The center of many Blair traditions, the library was the home of Pokey Bear, the toy mascot who represents goodness and the spirit of Blair, and who gave a party for each athletic team to kick off their season. In addition, many organizations chose the library as the location for their teas and inductions. Trophies won in both scholastic and athletic competition adorned the shelves of the main room. Seniors often worked in the Senior Corner which contained old yearbooks and memorial plaques for former Blair students and members of the faculty and administration.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Students Trace Growth

"These are the times that try men's souls." This and other inspiring quotations became familiar to Blair's U.S. History and American Civilization students as they traced the origin and growth of democracy in the United States. European History gave Blairites a detailed picture of the continent, enriching their knowledge of the ties between the Old and New Worlds. In Pan American and Far Eastern History, students studied the sociological, economic, and political situations of the areas. The Problems of the Twentieth Century course enlarged students' views of the world and broadened their interests. The World History classes traced man's development and wove the threads of many Social Studies courses together.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Students Learn Other

The Foreign Language Department stressed communication through speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Under the audio-lingual system, students listened to tapes and imitated the French, German, or Spanish natives who had recorded the lessons, and after mastering the pronunciation, they learned to write the dialogues. When the students had acquired a basic background, during class they spoke entirely in the foreign language. The Latin curriculum stressed grammar rather than conversation, and the three Latin courses covered Caesar's Gallic Campaigns, Cicero, and Vergil.

SCIENCE

Department Adds Fresh

The Science Department experimented with various methods of instruction in the laboratory science courses. Teachers of Biology and Chemistry chose the method that they knew could best transmit knowledge to the students. Through this program, the Department acquired additional teaching techniques as curious students learned about the seeming miracles in the plant and animal kingdoms and in matter and its properties. Physics students utilized mathematical theory and the laws of natural science while conducting experiments. This year the Science Department added Earth Science to its curriculum. In this descriptive course covering such areas as astronomy and geology, students surveyed the studies involving the earth and its relationship to other celestial bodies.

MATHEMATICS

Students Improve Thinking

In striving to master such techniques as the deriving of theorems, math students improved their minds by emulating logical thinking processes. Blair's team of mathematicians, aided by a new teacher, Mr. John Wofford, presented a challenging curriculum in basic and advanced mathematics, stimulating even the sharpest minds with their proficient instruction. Offering courses in Algebra, Plane and Solid Geometry, Trigonometry and Advanced Algebra, and Introductory Analysis, the Math Department stressed not only the theory of math, but also its practical application in such careers as logistics, statistics and surveying.

Blairites Study Commercial Subjects

Giving students a background in typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping, Blair's Business Education Department prepared students for future occupations. The department also gave students an opportunity to learn how to operate such office equipment as automatic calculators, mimeograph machines and adding machines. Keeping up with recent developments in commercial fields, Blair added two new components to its business department: a wireless electronic shorthand laboratory, the only one in Montgomery County, and IBM card punch training, which became a part of the office practice curriculum.

Mr S. Figenbaum

The On-the-Job Training Program gave seniors the opportunity to pursue a career through related classroom training and on-the-job experience. The three divisions of the program were Distributive Education, concerning sales and merchandising; Diversified Occupations, dealing with trades and industry; and Office Occupations, concentrating on secretarial and banking skills. In the morning students in the program attended classes studying required subjects and topics which prepared and trained them for their work experience. In the afternoon they worked on jobs in their chosen occupational field.

In a program involving seniors and juniors, approximately sixty students learned and practiced banking skills and methods under the instruction of Mr. Walter Keibler. While the seniors operated the bank, the juniors trained to run the bank next year as seniors. The Blair bank controlled all Blair's receipts and disbursements and accounted for savings deposited by its teachers and students. Students in banking received major academic credit and often attained full-time commercial banking jobs after graduation.

FINE ARTS, MUSIC

Students Express Themselves

Blair had an extensive curriculum for students interested in music. Through the chorus, directed by Mrs. Huntley, and through the orchestra and the bands, under the leadership of Mr. Koch, Blairites studied musical theory and techniques, and learned the joy and responsibilities of participating in community programs. For students interested in music, but without training, music appreciation classes opened the realm of music through lectures and recordings.

Students who wished to express themselves in original creativity, could take advantage of Blair's fine art courses. Dedicated to development of talent, the teachers taught the history and appreciation of art, techniques for proportion, and use of the media.

The duties of Blair's custodial staff also began early in the morning before school, and often lasted until after dark. These hardworking men spent long hours keeping the utilities running, and maintaining school buildings and property. They also helped set up chairs for meetings and restored order after dances and other special events.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Blair Government Serves Student Body

OFFICERS W. Ogburn (Pres.), M. Garfinkle (Treas.), D. Luke (V.P.), J. Goodman (Sec'y).

The Student Government's main objective was to carry out the wishes of the student body as expressed through the members of the Representative Assembly. Along with the Senate, the Assembly approved the budget, proposed and initiated referenda, helped enforce Activity Ticket policies and scheduled record hops. The treasurer compiled the budget, and evaluated expenditures called for by bills being considered. The secretary acted as legislative coordinator and maintained the Congressional calendars. Acting as Liaison between the two bodies, the vice-president voted in the Senate and presided over the Representative Assembly. The president held the power of veto over the Congress, but carefully considered each bill before passing or rejecting it. In addition, he decided policies on inter-school matters and appointed the Cabinet, composed of the chairmen of all the Student Government committees, plus two-ex-officio members.

Headed by Student Government Vice President Don Luke, the Activity Council, consisting of all organization presidents, coordinated the activities of Blair clubs. The group also met with P.T.A. president Glenn Lashley to discuss the distribution of tickets for the International Hootenanny held in the Boys' Gym which featured performers displaying the traditional entertainment from such countries as Austria, Bulgaria, Germany, Japan, Scotland, and Switzerland.

The Constitutional Board, the judicial branch of the Student Government, decided the official interpretation of the Constitution and supervised all school-wide elections. The Board, consisting of four senior, three junior, and two sophomore members, appointed by the Student Council president, also compiled a permanent record of all Student Council activities since the school year 1960-1961.

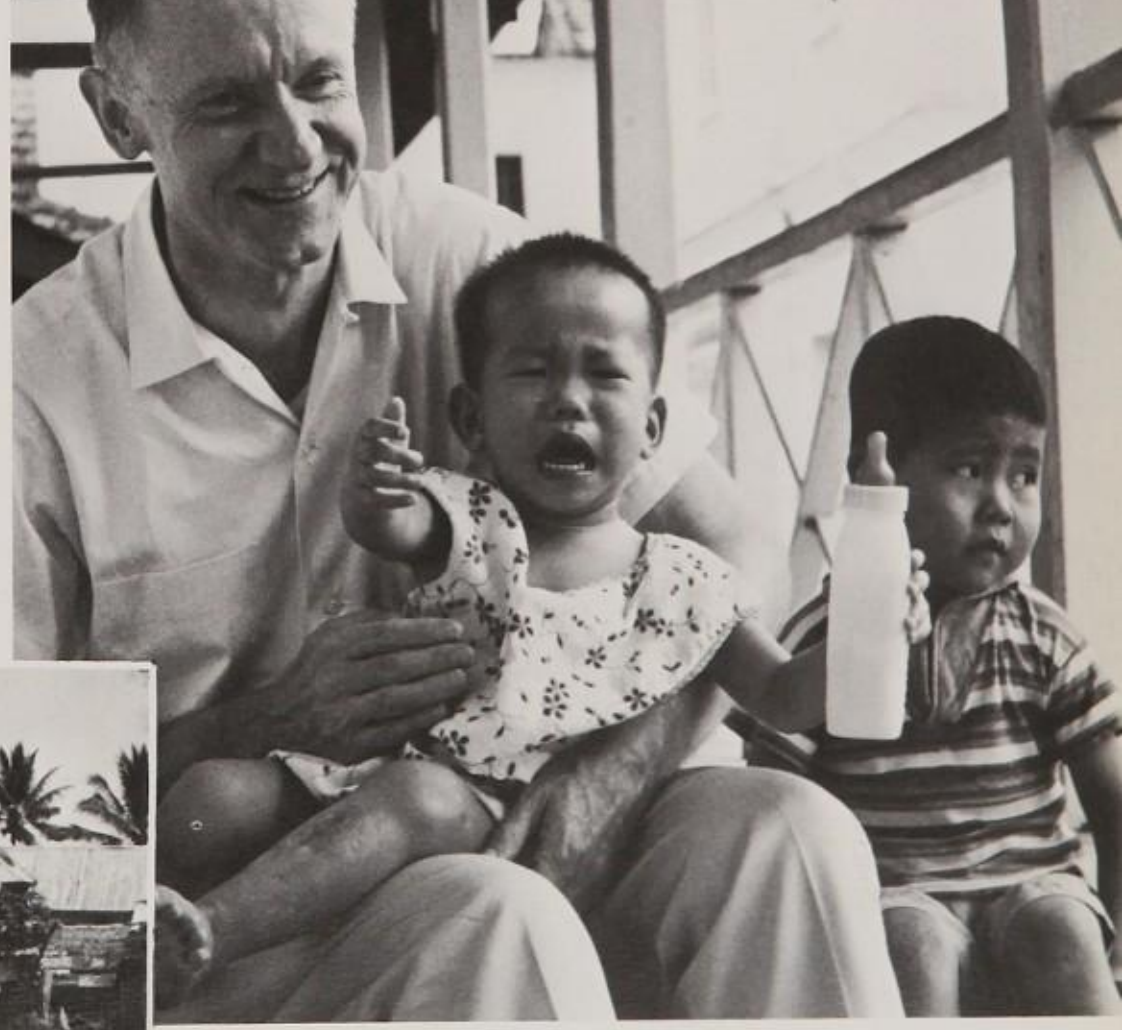
WELFARE

Funds Help Build Village

The Welfare Committee, made up of a representative from each homeroom, collected money for charitable causes outside Blair. Blair welfare funds helped to build a village in Malaysia and supported two Greek children and three American Indians. Donations were given to CARE and to research for cancer, heart disease, tuberculosis, and other critical diseases. The funds were raised by monthly contributions pledged by each Blair student.



BLAIR WELFARE MONEY HELPED greatly in building this village of Sang Gang along the Pakang River in Malaya. At the village hospital, which Blair helped to staff and equip, Dr. William McCune treats two wistful babies, one suffering from osteomylitis and the other from chronic nephritis.

IN-SCHOOL PUBLICITY, PUBLICITY

Committees Inform School, Community

WINX DISC-JOCKEY DICK DENHAM beams at the showmanship of Blairites Ilene Caplan and Jim McEuen, during Denham's weekly "Teen Time" show.

Publicizing all Student Government and in-school activities, the In-School Publicity Committee kept the student body well informed and helped create school spirit. In addition to working on numerous posters and bulletin boards, the Committee helped design the covers for the Student Directory, Activities Calendar, and Weekly Activities Bulletin.

Through regular broadcasts on several radio stations and a weekly column in two local newspapers, the Publicity Committee made the many aspects of Montgomery Blair student life well known to the community. The Committee also maintained a bulletin board and made a scrapbook, both consisting of newspaper clippings of events pertaining to Blair.

PUBLIC RELATIONS, SCHOOL STORE

Groups Promote Goodwill

The Public Relations Committee performed a variety of duties this year. It welcomed many groups of visitors to Blair and guided them around the school. One of the committee's major responsibilities involved orienting the new sophomores to Blair life. As in past years, the committee sponsored a faculty breakfast. In the spring, the group renewed the student exchange program between Blair and schools outside of the metropolitan area.

Located in "A" building, the school store gave students a convenient place to purchase school supplies, sweatshirts, jackets, decals, and streamers. The store provided both a saving for students and a profit for the Student Government.

SPECIAL PROJECTS, CITIZENSHIP, CHAIR, SAFETY

Responsible Students Uphold School Standards

The Special Projects Committee coordinated the Citizenship, Safety, and Chair Committees and aided other Student Government committees. In addition, it published the Student Directory, planned a grounds beautification project and the Spring Concert. The Citizenship Committee monitored the halls during lunchtime, maintained order in the cafeteria and efficiently seated students at assemblies. The members of the Safety Committee checked the rooms during fire and civil defense drills, improved traffic situations in the halls and, free of charge, examined cars in the area to determine their safeness. The Chair Committee set up the seats and other furniture needed for assemblies, club teas, school dances, and classroom visitors.

WAYS AND MEANS, ATHLETIC

Members Raise Money

Successfully raising money for the Student Government and at the same time engendering school spirit, the Ways and Means Committee sold beat buttons, Blair car stickers, and school activity calendars.

So that spirited and devoted Blairites could cheer our mighty Blazers on to victory, Athletic committee members sold tickets to all athletic events and took them at the door.

Committees Promote Culture

At the community level, the Social Activities Committee maintained a bulletin board to keep interested Blairites informed about civic, cultural, and educational activities of the school in the community.

The Dance Committee planned dances sponsored by the Student Council. The members chose appealing themes, designed and put up eye-catching decorations, and arranged for popular rock 'n' roll bands to entertain.

AUDIO, AUDIO-VISUAL AIDES, AMATEUR RADIO

Groups Use Communications Equipment

The Audio Committee set up all microphones, amplifiers and speakers for assemblies, athletic events, and school dances. In addition, this group controlled the lighting for all stage productions. Each morning five boys of the Audio-Visual Aides Committee came to school early to take such equipment as movie projectors, tape recorders and phonographs to all classrooms requesting them, often encountering problems in transporting the material up stairs and down long halls. Two or three times a week these boys trained other boys to operate projectors. Each day after school the boys gathered all the equipment borrowed that day and returned it to the Audio-Visual room. The five licensed amateur radio operators and ten aspiring operators of the Amateur Radio Club worked towards setting up a station to broadcast from the school premises. The licensed members helped others to earn their licenses by giving them instruction in the theory of radio operation, and helping them learn the Morse Code.

SOLDERING a vital connection, Dave Sabghir and Rick Tavan repair a transmitter for the Amateur Radio Club.

AS A PART OF HIS DAILY ROUTINE, Bennett Wheeler of the Audio Visual Committee delivers a movie projector to Mr. Marder for use in his biology class.

Cooperation Aids Projects

DURING THE SUMMER service club members Lois Eiduson, Kittie Landau, Leslie Tierney, and Linda Gable paint the stadium railings Blair's red and white as their annual joint project for the school.

Blair service clubs often worked together in their projects. In the fall Keyettes initiated a cooperative program to repaint the stadium rails our school colors. Varsettes and Crests jointly sponsored a Christmas party for the children at the Meriwether Home in Washington, D.C. These groups also had their own service projects throughout the year, including visiting various homes or hospitals on a regular basis. Keyettes sponsored a girls' cottage at the Laurel Children's Center; Varsettes were hostesses to patients in a neuropsychiatric ward at Walter Reed Hospital; and the Key Club worked at the Brookland Child Center. Crests, for the first year, affiliated internationally with the Rotary Club as well as sponsored a Miss Stickley Memorial Shelf in the Senior Corner of the school library. In addition, these clubs served the school in such ways as beautifying the grounds, maintaining the paperback bookstore, and creating publicity posters for Student Council campaigns.

O'DEBS, VARSITY, TRI OMEGA, TRI SIGMA

New and Established Clubs Provide Service

Two new unrestrictive clubs added their efforts to established clubs to benefit Blair and the community. Tri Omega boys gathered books for an old folks' home, and hastened to clean the stadium before twilight after football games. The girls of Tri Sigma laid a wreath on the late President Kennedy's grave and in addition brought joy to the grandparents they "adopted" from a home for the aged. An established girls' service club, the O'Debs produced the "Yearbook in Sound," a record of the major events of the school year, as well as cared for unfortunate children at Junior Village. The Varsity Club, made up of boys who earned their "B" in athletics, financed the annual Father-Son Banquet, presented trophies to the senior members who earned two athletic letters, and were responsible for the traditional service of helping Miss Stickley keep library tables shining.

BCA, VOTE

Service Clubs Keep Blair Well Informed

The Blair Citizenship Association strove to serve the school and the community. They invited speakers to lecture students on matters of general interest and at the end of the year held meetings where prospective candidates for Student Government offices could state their policies and answer any questions Blairites might want to ask. They provided voter guides for local residents and raised money for the community.

A pressure group, The Voice of the Electorate, tried to channel the activities of the Student Government and of the student body into areas which would benefit the school. The club conducted surveys, took polls, and published a newsletter. The members also initiated plans for beautifying the grove and for finding summer jobs for Blairites.

THE EXECUTIVE BOARD OF VOTE, Nancy Kramer, Taffy Colker, David Brookes, and Marc Hoffman, plans the agenda for a future meeting.

Hard-working Blairites Help Manage Library

The Library Club straightened the shelves, relabeled non-fiction books, took charge of the sign-out desk and carried out many other tasks that helped keep the library in working order. The club streamlined its committee system, abolishing outdated units and adding such new ones as the record committee in charge of Blair's new record file. It invited students from other school library clubs to visit and observe how Blair ran its library. In addition, the club planned a Christmas party, a spring banquet and other lively social activities.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

While many clubs were concerned with student life during high school, FTA, FHA, FDNA, and DECA looked to the future. The Future Teachers of America, realizing that teachers mold and construct minds of the future, kept those Blairites who were interested in teaching as a career up-to-date on current teaching trends. Members of the club gained first-hand experience by practice teaching in local elementary schools. Functioning as an "interest service club," The Future Homemakers of America added to their talents in Home Arts and promoted creative homemaking. The Future Doctors and Nurses of America acquainted members with the various medical professions and carried on service projects in nearby hospitals. The Distributive Education Clubs Association provided students with an opportunity to find jobs in merchandising and business. The club also sponsored contests at the end of the year which recognized outstanding students.

The scientifically inclined student found three clubs at Blair which enabled him to further his interests. Dealing with the field in general, the Science Club set up and supervised the Science Fair, showed films, sponsored lectures, and planned field trips to scientific institutions. The Chemistry Club visited the Naval Ordinance Laboratories, obtained guest speakers and films, and sold chemistry handbooks to supplement students' textbooks. Such natural settings as Great Falls provided a place for Geology Club members to increase their knowledge of science. The group also offered lectures and sold rock candy, as well as jewelry its members made from decorative stones found on field trips.

The foreign language clubs varied their projects this year. Members of the German Club centered their activities around their motion picture production of Beowulf. Although this took much of their time, the members managed to enjoy an informal social evening at the home of Mr. Swick, their sponsor. As its major project for the year, the French Club raised $150 for a French family of eleven living in Brittany. In addition, members of the club invited Mrs. Enright, a Blair history teacher, to show the slides she brought back from her trip to Europe; and Jeani Walton, a 1964 Blair graduate to tell of her summer experiences abroad with the "Experiment in International Living." Also the club saw a French movie at a local theater, formed the French Scrabble Team, and initiated intra-county competition. The Spanish Club directed its projects to promote good will between United States citizens and students from Latin America. The club also sponsored parties and visited the Spanish and El Salvadoran Embassies.

Students Learn of Foreign Countries

To raise money for the American Field Service, Blair's Foreign Exchange Club sold candy bars, baked goods, and Christmas cards, but of primary interest were the discussions held that furthered understanding of foreign cultures. Through the club, Blair exchanged students with other countries, enjoying the sojourns of Jean-Marie Beghin of France and Ursula Schaaber of Germany.

Better acquainting Blair students with the United Nations and its functions, the U.N. Club arranged for the President of the American Association for the U.N. to speak at Blair. The club also collected for UNICEF and sponsored the U.N. test.

The Far Eastern Club, composed of Blairites from America and such countries as Korea and Taiwan, discussed and compared the mores of their countries with ours. They also held a festive Thanksgiving dinner-dance, and a farewell party for senior members.

Teams Match Wits with Opponents

Three of the teams at Blair emphasized "brains instead of brawn." This year the Debate Team participated in three county tournaments and several invitational nation-wide contests. Since the contest topics were based on current events, both the varsity and junior varsity teams held practice debates in school to keep abreast of current national and world-wide affairs. The Forensic Team also attended three county tournaments. Placed into various categories of oratory and oral interpretation, Blair students maintained a fine record of earning individual honors. Every two or three weeks, Blair's ten-member Math Team competed against teams from Wheaton, Sherwood, and Peary High Schools as part of the county-wide competition. Up to five members from each team tried to solve five problems within the allotted time. The team also met informally after school to discuss various problems that they had encountered.

DISCUSSION, MODERN POETRY

Special Interests Discussed

"Congo—Interfere or Not?" This was only one of the timely topics considered by Blair's Discussion Group. Composed of Juniors and Seniors, the club held informal meetings on current and thought-provoking issues, trying to determine their significance.

Participating members of the Modern Poetry Symposium researched and then met to discuss their various interpretations of impressive poetic works. The initial activity of the newly formed club was aimed to enrich school-wide appreciation of poetry by arranging for Mr. Reed Whittemore, poetry consultant to the Library of Congress, to address a Blair assembly. At that time he spoke of the trends in contemporary poetry.

Blairites Gain Skill in Difficult Games

The Chess Club gave Blair students the opportunity to practice, study and improve their techniques in the ancient game that takes intellectual skill. Some of the members became expert and led the Chess Team to many victories in their league of eighteen teams from the Metropolitan Area.

Every Thursday after school, under the expert tutelage of Mr. Rubens, the Bridge Club met to practice duplicate bridge. Each table played the same hands and studied each others' methods. The Bridge Team then put its study to good use, defeating Walter Johnson in competition.

With a resounding crash of balls and pins, the Blair Bowling Club participated in their own tournaments at Silver Spring Bowling Alley every Wednesday. Each member paid not only for his games, but also a twenty-cent fee weekly to the prize fund. In the spring, the fund was spent to buy trophies. These were awarded to the members of the first, second, and third place teams, and to the winner of the girls' and boys' high game, high set, and high average.

The Stamp and Coin Club was made up of Blairites interested in trading, selling, and comparing their collections. The club meetings provided a place for the students to get together and discuss their avocation.

ADVANCED CHORUS, ORCHESTRA

Musicians Entertain

With a dramatic rendition of the "Pledge of Allegiance," the eighty-five members of Blair's Advanced chorus, directed by Mrs. Mary Huntley, opened the Thanksgiving Assembly, the first of their many school and community programs. Promoting the Christmas spirit, they sang at the Christmas Assembly, for the tree lighting at Walter Reed Medical Center, and for a WMAL radio recording, broadcast during the Christmas season. Demonstrating their understanding of the techniques and teamwork required to perform the music of different peoples and different times, the group also entertained at the Manor Club Charity Ball and for the American Guild of Organists, participated in the Choral Day at Maryland University, and sent three selected students to State Chorus in Baltimore.

Mr. Ernest Koch trained the Blair Orchestra in music at all levels of difficulty. The members became proficient in a wide variety of selections, South Pacific, Flower Drum Song, and Porgy and Bess, as well as classical and Latin American pieces. Adding to the professional quality of the production, selected members performed for Pajama Game in the orchestra, a group whose crisp attack and harmonious blend made the music come alive.

GSA

Club Encourages Girls in Sports

The Girls' Sports Association, affiliated with the Montgomery County Girls' Sports Association, sponsored extra-curricular sports activities for girls. The intermural program, open to any interested girl, consisted of four main sports: field hockey, basketball, volleyball, paddle tennis and tennis. Members of the intermural teams competed for positions on the Honor Teams which played other high schools four times during a season. Girls who participated the most in after school activities played in the Sports Days with intermural team members from other schools. Through participating in intermurals and working on committees, the girls earned points toward awards. If a girl earned sixty points, she automatically became a voting member of GSA. Of the 200 members in GSA, a few earned the loving cup, the highest award, which required an accumulation of 2000 points. The club also held other social activities as the all-club swimming party, initiated this year.

CHEERLEADERS

Lively Girls Spark Enthusiasm

Take a smile, add one part school spirit, and one part loyal support, spark with a loud voice and lots of pep, refine with good sportsmanship, dress in red and white, label with a capital "B," and Blair has a cheerleader. Multiply that by ten and Blair has a complete, enthusiastic cheerleading squad.

In addition to their usual duty of channeling the wild energy of the Blair rooters into organized cheers on the football field and basketball court, these vivacious girls supported the soccer, cross-country, wrestling, track, and baseball teams. They also stimulated school spirit during the week by leading the students in their early morning pep rallies. The wave of spirit which surged through the school this year owed much to the efforts of Blair's exuberant cheerleaders.

BAND AND

At Halftime Music and Marching Entertain Crowds

Blair's award-winning band not only entertained crowds at halftime during football games, but also excelled in state competition this year, playing unusually difficult music. In addition to participating in the traditional Silver Spring Christmas Parade, the band gave a Spring Concert and competed in the Maryland State Music Festival. Reflecting many hours of practice, the seven baton twirlers, fourteen pom-pom girls, and the five-member colorguard of the majorettes gave precision performances at halftime. Each day after school the girls profited by operating their school snack bar. Much of the money financed a two-weeks' stay at a camp for the baton twirlers where they learned new routines and perfected skill and coordination.

SILVER CHIPS

Paper Provides Forum

Constantly creating new ideas, and meeting deadlines, Blair's newspaper staff published Silver Chips tri-weekly. The staff, after interviewing school and community personalities, reported events of the year through informative copy and pictures. This year the staff injected more humor into articles as well as maintained an editorial policy representing student opinion. Rated nationally as All-American, Silver Chips also organized an Intra-County Press Association.

SILVER QUILL LITERARY STAFF

Creativity Encouraged

The Silver Quill literary and art staffs drew upon student contributions to produce Blair's semi-annual literary-art magazine. The literary staff encouraged all students to submit their original poetic and prose works. The members of this staff then evaluated and edited the material submitted. The art staff illustrated the selections and designed the contemporary, eye-appealing cover by using such techniques as pen and ink, silkscreen, and woodblocks.

School Life

Learning new jobs, comparing and analyzing other yearbooks, organizing each section in the book, choosing a theme—there were so many things to do. The Silverlogue staff buckled down to work last spring, met again during the summer, preparing for the year to come. When the school year began, the pace increased. Sparked by a new awareness and enjoyment of the many aspects of school life, staff photographers and writers traveled in school and out, taking pictures and gathering information about Blairites and their activities. All eyes, ears, and pencils, they roamed the school grounds, watching and recording as Blairites joined clubs, participated in sports, received awards, laughed, talked, listened, and learned. Faced with meeting deadlines, the staff wrote copy, designed layouts, cropped pictures and, often working far into the night, strove to create a vivid record of the lively school year. The hard work rewarded them with the pleasure of learning something new, of making new friends, and of gaining a greater appreciation for the high quality of Montgomery Blair.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Honor Students Organize Programs

"Scholarship, character, leadership, service." These are the four qualities the National Honor Society fostered in Blair students. In the line of valuable service, members tutored in several academic subjects and formulated a program to inspire students to finish school. The society also initiated an after-school seminar series covering topics which supplemented subjects offered in the school curriculum.

WHILE THEY REPEAT THE PLEDGE OF THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY, ". . . to make its ideals the ideals of my life," the inductees hold the candles which they had just lit from the candle of Life.

DURING THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY'S SOLEMN INDUCTION CEREMONY, President Gary Yudkoff lights the candle of Life. From that he lights the four candles of Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service, representing the qualities to which all members aspire.

Masque and Gavel, Blair's chapter of the national speech honor society, was active in a variety of areas this year. The group held a workshop for students trying out for the forensic team and later helped to arrange the Forensic tournament. It invited and encouraged students to speak at assemblies. In the spring it provided commentators for the Fashion Show.

Quill and Scroll, affiliate of an international organization, honored students who worked on the school newspaper, yearbook, and literary magazine. All members received Quill and Scroll, a magazine analyzing problems of and offering up-to-date ideas for high school journalism.

The three language honor societies at Blair had similar entrance standards and goals. For membership the Latin Honor Society required two consecutive semesters of "A's"; the Spanish Honor Society, four; and the French Honor Society, five. Furthermore, membership in the French Honor Society depended upon participation in such extracurricular French activities as the French club or newspaper. In addition, several of the members of all of these honor societies devoted many hours before and after school to tutoring students having difficulty with their foreign language studies.

Outstanding Students Receive Recognition

Several honor societies recognized students who excelled in a particular area of interest. Acknowledging high caliber mathematics students, Mu Alpha Theta sought to further stimulate their interest in the field by inviting a guest speaker who discussed the matrix theory. Under its tutoring program, members aided students requesting help in grasping difficult mathematical concepts. Monogram Society members received the Old-English "B," signifying outstanding service to the school, and voted on the applications of students nominated by a club president or sponsor. Blairites interested in the dramatic arts strove to achieve the eight points necessary for induction into the Thespians. The directors of the senior class play and the annual show awarded points to the performers, while the various committee sponsors did the same for members of the countless committees involved in the productions. When annual show fever hit Blair, the Thespians aided students trying out by distributing music and holding a series of workshops where they discussed the characters and music of Pajama Game.

Champion Blazers Gain

After steam-rolling five teams, the Blazers nerved themselves to battle Richard Montgomery, the previous champion. Before the game, the team was unusually subdued, but once begun, they couldn't be stopped. Watched by a crowd of 6,000, the Blazers tromped the Rockets into the ground. After this victory, the die was cast. In the final game of the year, they rolled over B-CC to capture the Montgomery County Championship.

"We gotta win! We gotta win! Ooh! Ah!" The cry rang out time after time, game after game, urging the Blazers on to victory. The spirited, hard-driving team, under the direction of Coaches Pugliese, Ganz, and Speidel, plowed down all opposition, racking up a perfect record. Backed by a strong line and unyielding defense, the offensive players scored a total of 244 points to the opposition's 58.

Team Conquers the Region, County

With an outstanding player in every starting position, the Blazers captured the Regional Championship and became the first team to go undefeated in Montgomery County competition. In the Northwestern game, the tightly knit team scored the most goals ever recorded in this area. Most of the first string made area all-star teams; goalie Ralph Farrel distinguished himself with five shutouts, while Hector Galliani led the team offensively, scoring 15 goals.

BLAIR'S MOST CONSISTENT RUNNER, Eric Smith, placed first in every County meet, and third in the State.

For the cross country team, this was a year of recovery from the loss of last year's graduating stars. The one remaining veteran, Eric Smith, performed magnificently. Finishing first in every county meet Blair entered, he set a record 13:30 for the two-and-a-half course, while in the state meet, he finished third. JIM WIEBUSH DRAWS a bead on the target fifty feet down range.

The Rifle Team demonstrated its accuracy this season by scoring early victories in its first two matches with Roosevelt and Wilson. Members shot from prone, kneeling, and standing positions at a two inch target placed fifty feet away. The bullseye of the target was no bigger than the bullet itself. To gain the proficiency that would enable them to score consistently, the team practiced four hours a week on Blair's own rifle range. By the conclusion of its victorious season, the Blazer marksmen were scoring 99 out of 100 possible points, making them one of Blair's best teams ever.

Blair's closely knit Varsity basketball team downed six of its nine opponents in first-half league play through its alert ball handling and accurate shooting. Led by All-Montgomery County Ralph Farrel, the squad blazed a trail of five straight victories during second-half play, missing the crown for this segment of the season only after a close defeat by Richard Montgomery, who later beat first-half champion Einstein for the title. In the contest against Richard Montgomery, the Blazers constantly pressured the Rockets, missing a startling upset by a mere five points. Blair's baseball team opened the season with a series of impressive wins, shutting out High Point, whomping Whitman, and edging last year's county champs, Richard Montgomery, on a last-inning double by Allan Judd. They lost a close slugfest to Northwestern, although cleanup man Rocky Benedict distinguished himself by slamming two three-run homers. Ace pitcher Chuck Oglebay started in four of the first eight games and won three of them. Slugger Lorin Sarbacher banged out a searing .450 batting average. Coach Allan Graham constantly emphasized the importance of pitching and defense, which he believes account for seventy-five percent of the game.

Competing for the first year in the Stadium on a newly completed cinder track, the track and field team won several important events. In the County Relays, the sprint medley team composed of Roger Jacobs, Roy Koppel, Tim Theoharis and Willard Ogburn, gained a third place. Junior Eric Smith, who last year ran the fastest sophomore mile on the East Coast, won a first place in the opening meet before an injury incapacitated him for the remainder of the season. Roger Jacobs and Willard Ogburn consistently won in the two-mile run and the hop, step, and jump, respectively. Directed by Coach Arthur Nimitz, the team ran and exercised several hours each day after school.

MIKE RALEIGH, WITH A SMOOTH BACKHAND, underhandedly scoops up a low return.

Front Row: Mr. Nelson Kobren (Coach), D. Weatherbee, B. Malkin, W. Stern, M. Raleigh, M. Hauver. Second Row: D. Theoharris, D. Goldstein, M. Greenblatt, R. Rizzo, P. BenEzra, R. Urso, J. Hertz.

TENNIS

Team Nets Victories, Individual Honors

Blair's traditionally excellent tennis team proved to be no exception this year, as early victories amply demonstrated by scores of 8-1, 8-0, and 9-0 over the skillful Catholic school teams of John Carroll, Gonzaga, and St. Johns. Dick Weatherbee enlarged his string of consecutive victories to twenty-five, which extended over a two year period. With four remaining matches in the season, Wayne Stern had won thirty-six singles matches in his three-year career, giving him the record for the most wins in the history of Montgomery County tennis. Since statistics show that most points are won or lost at the initial stages of the game, Coach Nelson Kobren stressed the importance of getting the first serve in and returning the service.

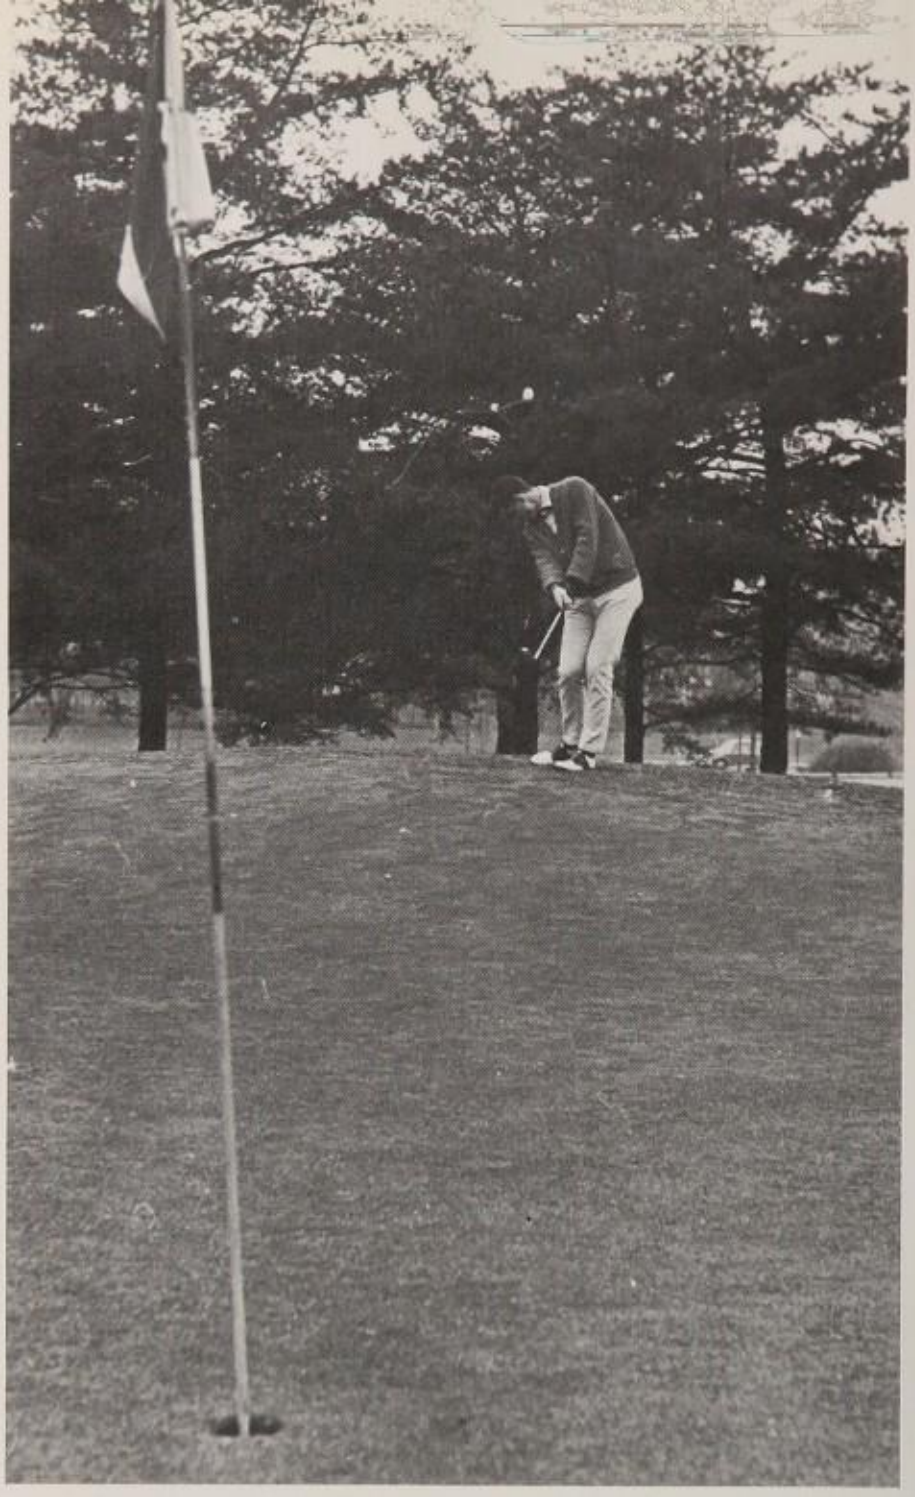
MOVING INTO POSITION against his John Carroll opponent, David Goldstein braces himself for his return volley.

Beating Einstein by the perfect match play score of 9-0, Blair's small but skillful golf squad displayed early in the season the accurate play that made it one of the biggest threats in the county. To shutout Einstein each of the six Blair golfers won more holes than his opponent, and in each of the three foursomes a Blair golfer had the lowest score. Varsity players perfected their shots to such a degree that they shot in the low seventies, near-professional golf. Junior Mike Micka won his opening round during competition in the Schoolboy Golf Tournament.

BOB GORDON EXPLODES the ball out of a trap in a match against Whitman.



USING A NINE IRON, LARRY LARSEN CHIPS up to the pin within birdie distance in Blair's 9-0 rout of Einstein.

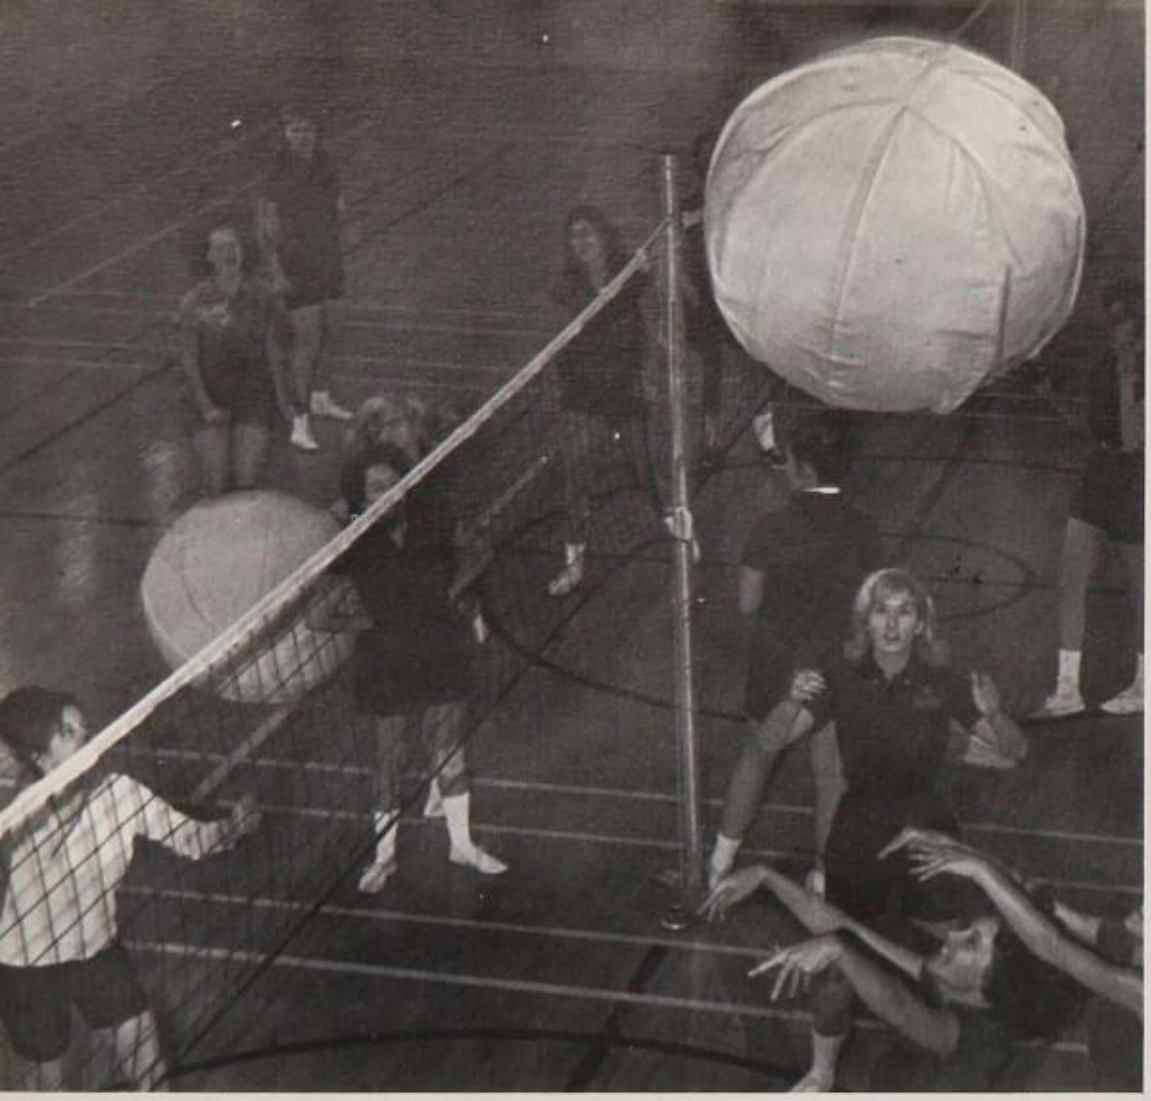
TEEING OFF, TOMMY SCHEICK WALLOPS the ball, splitting the fairway with his straight drive.

A STEADY AND CONSISTENT PUTTER, BOB GORDON TAPS a downhill lie for his par at the difficult Northwest Park course.

LARRY LARSEN SNAPS his wrists through the ball as he reaches the green in two with a long iron shot against Whitman.

TOMMY SCHEICK BLASTS his ball out of the deep rough onto the fairway at Brooke Manor.



ANN DE VOS, JUDY ESTRADA, AND CAROL FREDERICK bat the enormous cage ball into their opponents' court.

CAROL WALTERS strains to return an unexpected recovery.

In this year's sports program, Blair girls gained proficiency in both individual and team sports. They spent class hours learning rules, skills, and fair play in field hockey, gymnastics, fencing, and other sports. On their own time the girls participated in four intramural seasons sponsored by the Girls' Sports Association. G.S.A. committees, open to any girl with sixty athletic points, coordinated all sports activities. The G.S.A. Executive Council met on the first of every month to evaluate past events and plan future activities.

THE CROWDED HALLS exhibited a cross section of Blair, as students congregated before homeroom.

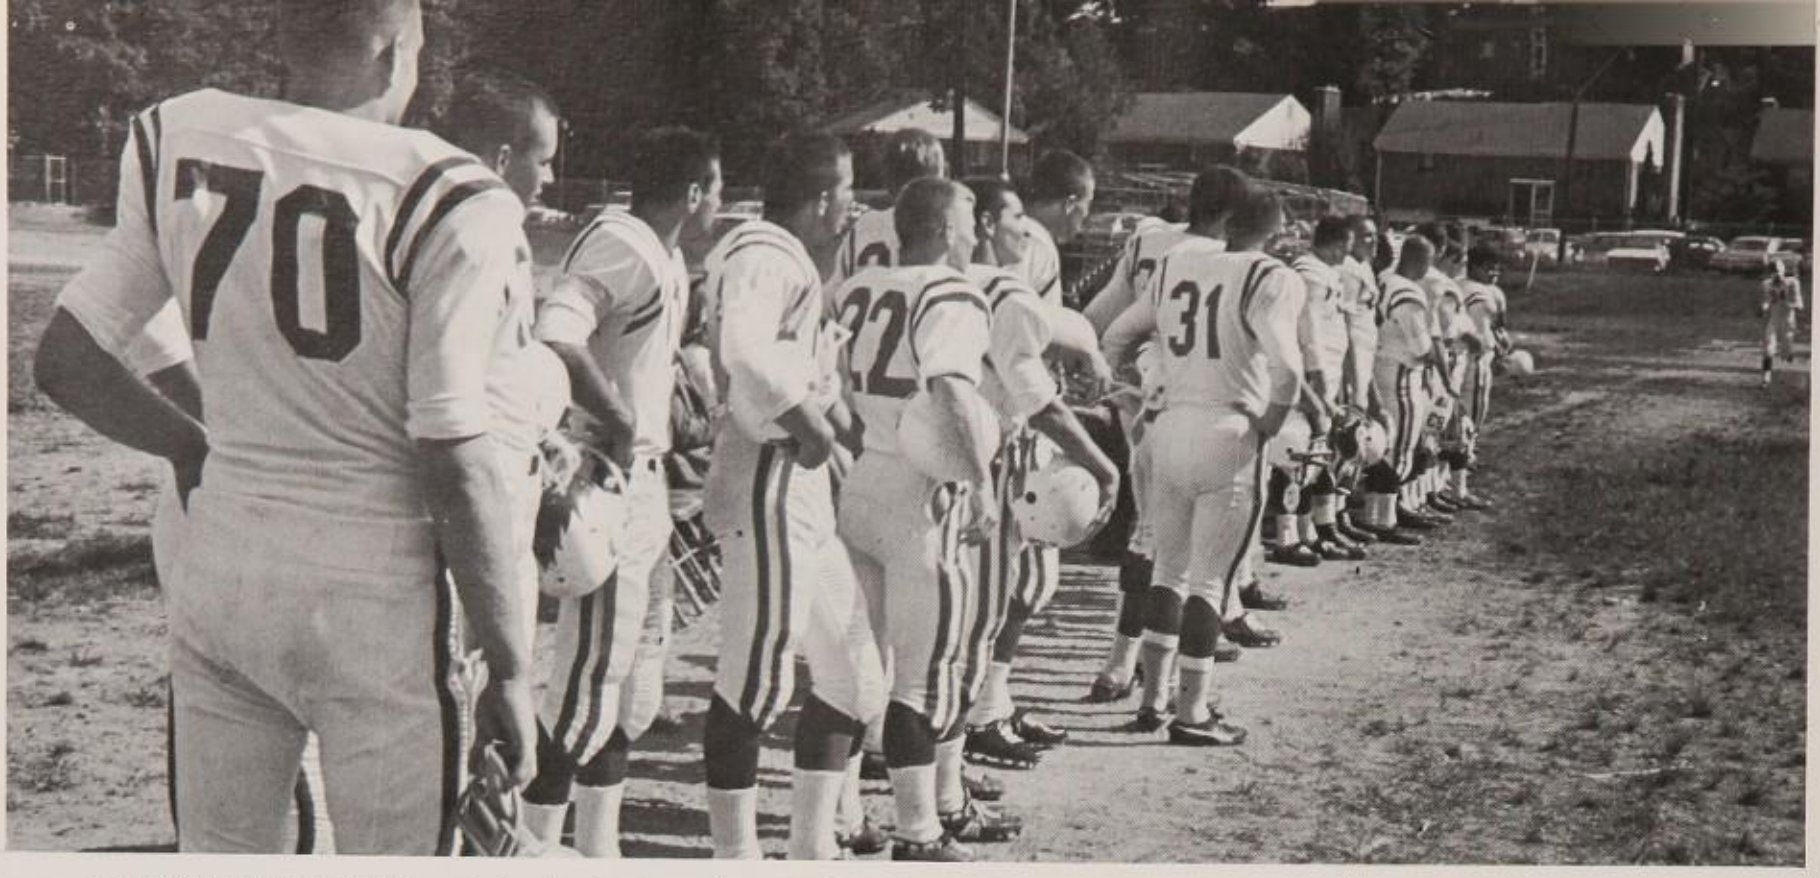
an Average Day at Blair

IN THE CAFETERIA, pinstriped shirts and madras abounded from the new jukebox to the book-covered tables.

STUDENT ATTEMPTS at hushed conversation sometimes met with success in the earnest atmosphere of the Senior Corner.

EVEN THE MOST ATTENTIVE PUPILS fell prey to the overwhelming attraction of a quick nap during class.

NEAR THE STADIUM, students jammed the buses as the 3:30 bell ended another hectic day.



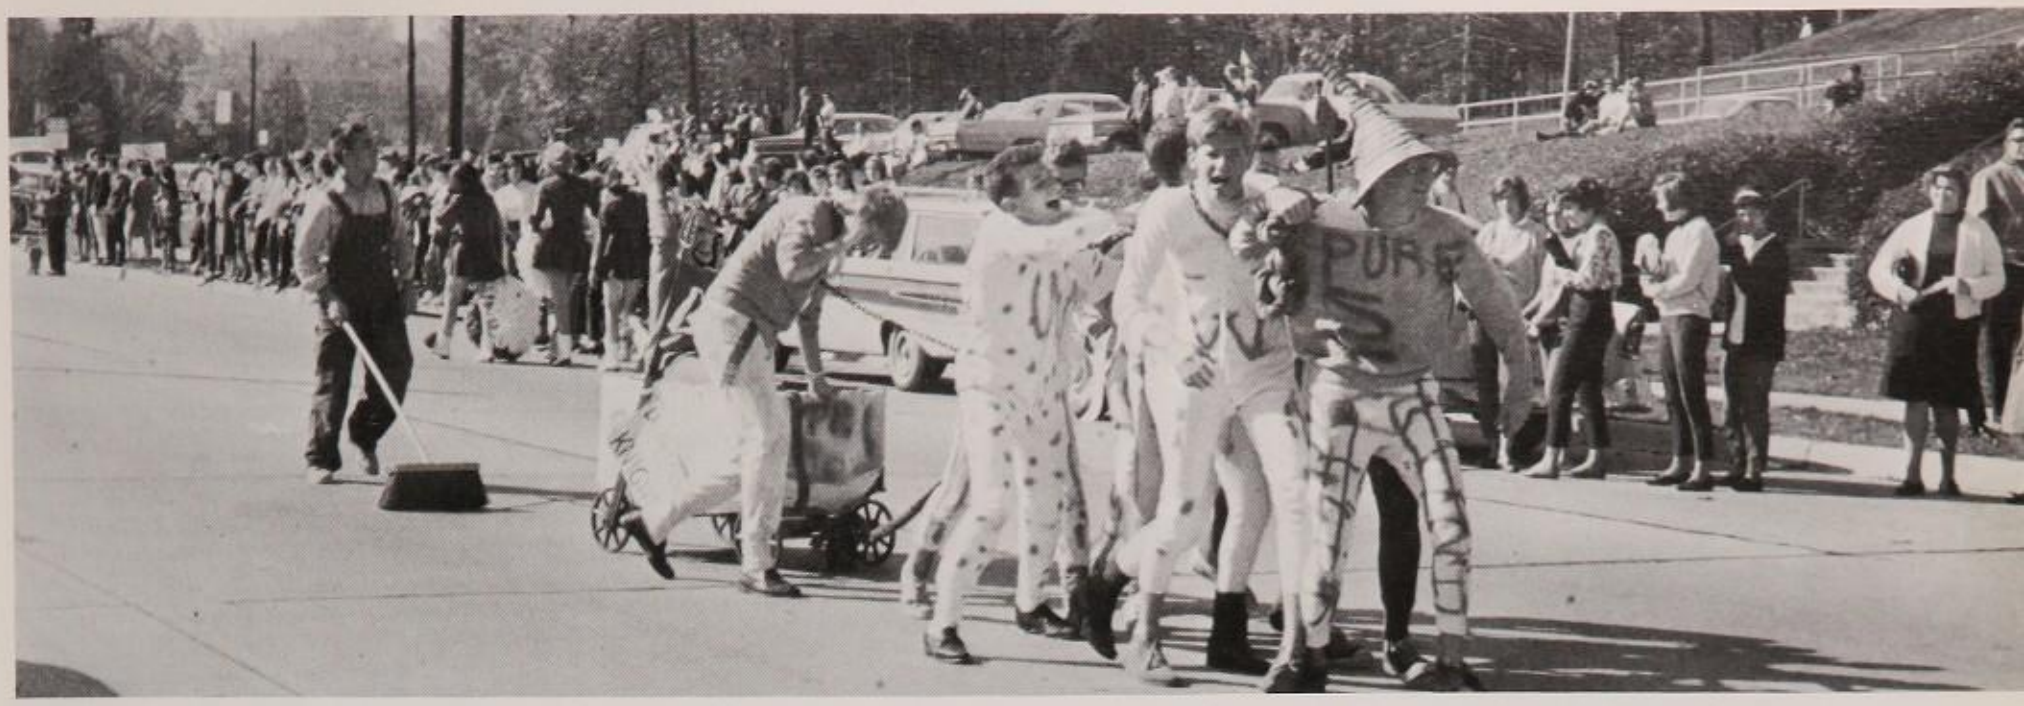
CO-CAPTAIN DOUG ROSS waits for the final members of Blair's future champion football team to be introduced with warmth and humor by Coach Pugliese.

BLAIR DEVILS Mo Garfinkle and Norman Oremland spark school spirit as they heckle the Wheaton effigy.

MOCK MAJORETTES charge across the field with a fanfare of color, noise, and laughter.

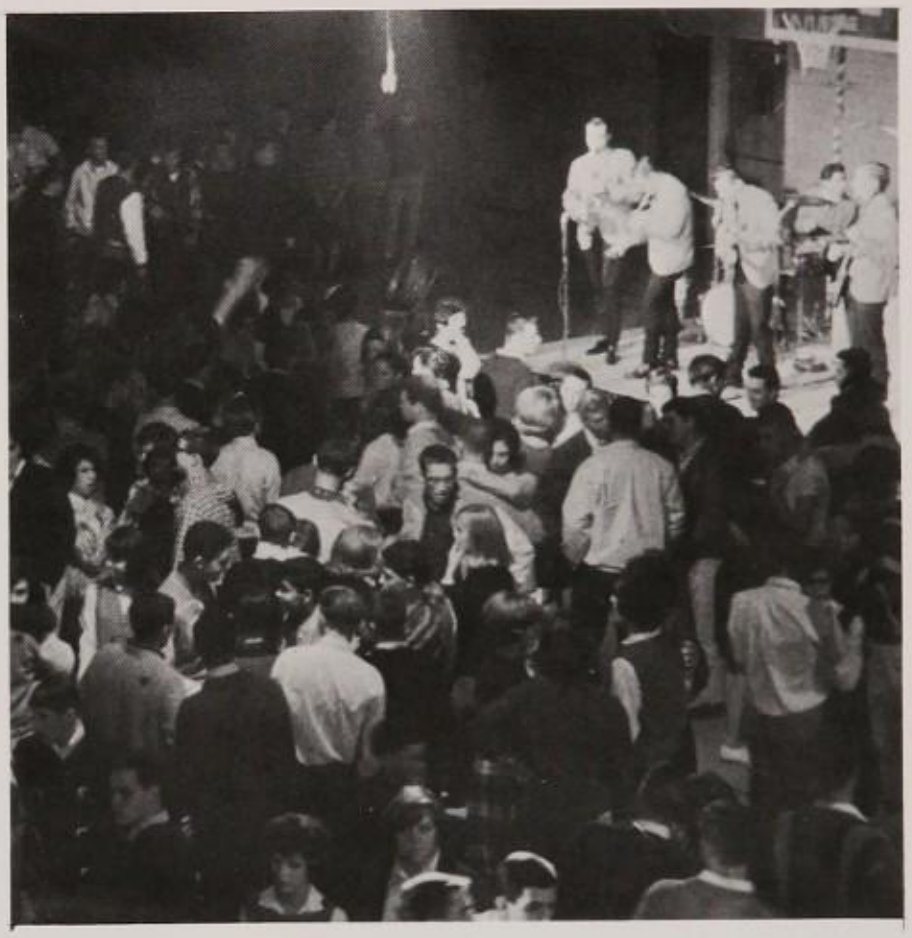
Spirit Soars at Homecoming '64

THE CREMATION of the Wheaton dummy lights up the brisk night air, illuminating Blair majorettes and students.



DURING THE FLOAT PARADE, the boys from Tri Omega break up the exuberant crowd with their uninhibited antics.

"Was it successful? It was only the most successful Homecoming we've ever had!" replied chairman Steve Shuman, when asked about Blair's 1964 Homecoming Weekend. The pep assembly opened the weekend with yells and cheers at the antics of the mock football team (male faculty members), mock cheerleaders and majorettes. That evening in the plateaued field above the stadium, the Wheaton dummy was cremated. As the final ashes formed, tunes rang out from the Boys' Gym at the Homecoming hop. At noon Saturday, the traditional Homecoming parade with floats from countless school clubs moved through Silver Spring terminating at Blair's stadium. Here Blair Blazers scored a 33-0 victory against the Wheaton Knights. Concluding the never-to-be-forgotten weekend, Blairites danced to the theme of "Silver Highlights" at the celebrated Homecoming formal.



THE PULSING BEAT of music by the Prophets traverses the Boys' Gym, across the swirling mass of students at the record hop.

CONFETTI FLIES and the jubilant crowd roars as Blair makes its first touchdown.

THE GIBBSES (Pat Sweeny, Sherry Soles, Sue Blaustein) become absorbed in George and Emily's "perfectly lovely wedding," as Margo Abraham, Jackie Pierce and others look on.

Seniors Present Our Town

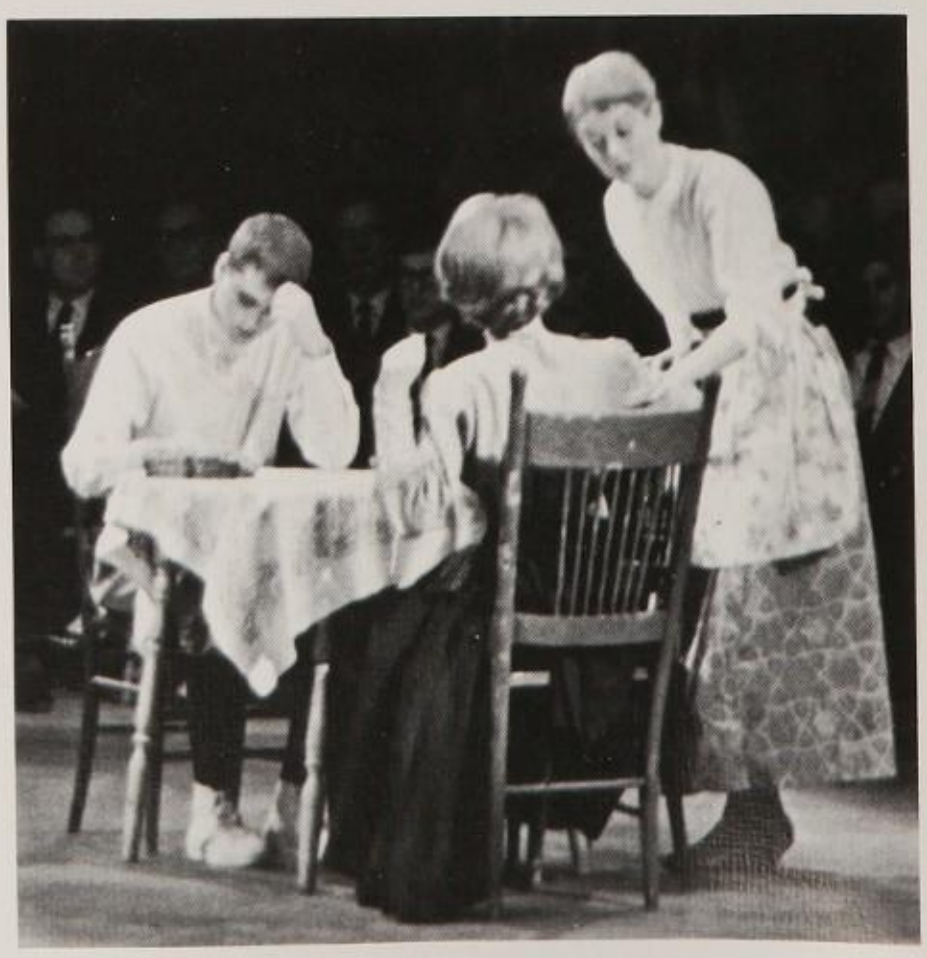
This fall, the Senior Class presented Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize-winning play Our Town in the round. With only the barest of scenery, simple sound effects, and turn-of-the-century costumes, the show abounded with warmth and universality. No wonder Director Benjamin Slack said to the cast on opening night, "If Wilder had been here tonight, I know he would have been proud of you."

George (Jerry Whiddon) assures Emily, "I'm going to do my best. I love you, Emily. I need you."

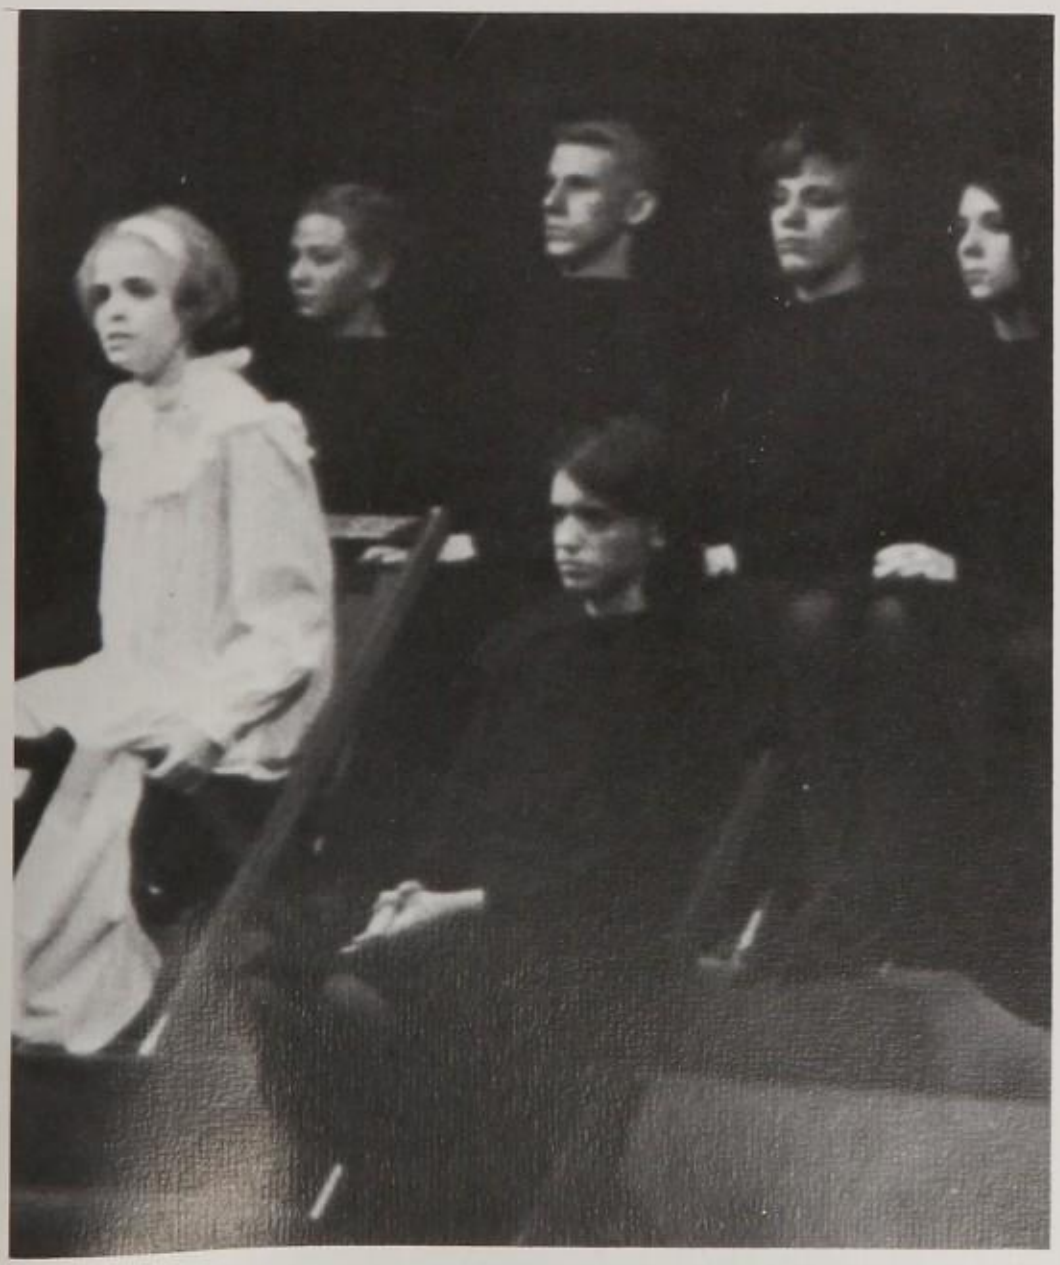


MRS. WEBB (Sandy Bornstein) expresses motherly exasperation as she warns Wally (Doug Kunz) and Emily (Elaine Mesavage), "I won't have you gobbling like wolves. It'll stunt your growth!"

AS MRS. WEBB SNAPS BEANS, George hesitantly asks Emily for "a hint or two about one of those algebra problems."

THE STAGE MANAGER (Steve Chatsky) humbly philosophizes, "Everybody knows in his bones that something is eternal."

AMONG THE DEAD (Margo Abraham, Ray Leketsky, Claudia Hargrove, Cecile Litvin, Cheryl Adler), Emily tearfully questions, "Do human beings ever realize life while they life it—every, every minute?"



AS THE STAGE MANAGER ASSUMES THE ROLE of the druggist and prepares sodas, George and Emily begin to discover each other.

IN SPITE OF FREEZING WEATHER, persistent Blairites hurry across the snow-laden quadrangle in order to arrive at their next class on time.

Winter Comes To Blair

EVEN THE STARKNESS OF THE WINTER landscape enhances the beauty of our Christmas Court, Jeanie McColly, Connie Enlow (queen), Phyllis Duval, Sharon Nelson, Kathy Herath, and (last row) Karon Nelson and Kathy Wolfe.

"HO-HO-HO!" Vice Principal, Mr. Veit, poses as jolly Santa with selected chorus members. While caroling throughout Blair, they added to the holiday spirit.

EITHER FASHIONS are taking a political trend in celebrating Texas apparel or else they're just daring, as was exhibited by countless Blairites who wore the exaggerated foot-and-leg fashions this winter.

ENJOYING THE MOST ELEGANT activity of the winter season, the Christmas Formal, Blairites dance to the music of the "Corvettes."

"BY OLD SLIGO'S WINDING WATERS, gentle hills of green" turn white as winter comes to Blair.

ENTERTAINING AT THE UNION RALLY, Steve Jeweler and Gladys (Nancy Hollander) raise the roof in "S-s-steam Heat."

The Name of the Game Is Pajama

"The pajama game is the game we're in . . ." For three hectic months, Blairites slaved over the largest student activity of the year—Blair's Annual Show, Pajama Game. With charm, diplomacy, and plain hard work the show's committees collected or created all the paraphanalia needed for costumes, props, and settings. The Publicity Committee spread the good word while the Ticket Committee organized the sale of tickets to the thousands who flocked to see the four shows, including the first Saturday matinee ever presented at Blair. Members of Cast, Crew, Props, and Orchestra, under the brilliant direction of Messrs. Pioli, Speidel, Bridges, and Koch, worked late into the night until they could perform with the split-second precision of a professional production.

AT THE "ONCE A YEAR DAY" PICNIC, the excitement pointed out by Fran Eckstein captivates Ruth Lepson, Jan Frankina, Diane Hauf, Ray Leketsky, Phyllis Harwell, and David Rolls.

BABE (PAM MARCON) AND SID (GORDON BRIGHAM) agree that "married life is lots of fun: two can sleep as cheap as one!"

A RARE MOMENT BETWEEN SCENES catches Messrs. Koch, Pioli, and Bridges in quiet collaboration.

HASLER (LARRY WISEMAN) GLOWERS at the pantsless Hines (David Fishback), as Sid, Max (Steve Goldberg), and Mabel (Sue Blaustein) watch in silent amazement.

IN A BLAZE OF COLOR AND SONG, the dancing and singing chorus exuberantly open the first act in "Racing with the Clock."

AT AN AFTERNOON REHEARSAL, dancers concentrate on perfecting the intricate movements of "Hernando's Hideaway."

CLASS OFFICERS

Mr. Wagner's Message To the Senior Class

To the Class of 1965:

Your class has the distinction of being the largest ever to graduate from a high school in Montgomery County. This record number of graduates in one class will probably stand for many years to come, but size alone will not mark the class of 1965.

As a group, and as individuals, you have been recognized for your academic achievement and by your contributions to your school program. Your future activities will be followed with great interest by your classmates and your teachers. From time to time we shall hope to contact you to inquire about your progress, and to determine by your responses how well your high school program has served you as preparation for later academic work or employment. From these responses we will also be in a better position to improve the program for future Blairites.

With you go our sincere best wishes for success, health, and happiness in your undertakings.

Cordially,

Richard E. Wagner

Linda,
I hope you have a lot of good luck
through-out the coming years. (Mrs. Johnston)
Good luck to Jimmy
& you.
Lynda Rose

Linda,

It's finally all over - no more school - big deal now what. You and Jimmy will find plenty to do I'm sure. I know I have - maybe not good fun but fun. I think you and I will always keep in touch no matter where we go and what ever happens to us. Good Luck in any and everything you do.

Love Ya always,
Linda
